Colin Fletcher was a pioneering backpacker and writer. In 1963, Fletcher became the first to walk the length of Grand Canyon entirely within the rim of the canyon "in one go" — only second to complete the entire journey — as chronicled in his bestselling 1967 memoir The Man Who Walked Through Time. Through his influential hiker's guide, The Complete Walker, published the same year, he became a kind of "spiritual godfather" of the wilderness backpacking movement.

It was so good that I tracked down "The Man Who Walked Through Time". The book had a huge impact on me. Fletchers writing about his solo travels is unpolluted by ego, fluff or anything else that's worthless. He brings the small but essential experiences into sharp focus with his careful descriptions. A literary critic might have a different ...
